

Weekly Challenge 3

Is it possible that a group  $G$  could have a subgroup  $H$  whose identity element is not the identity element of  $G$  itself? Give an example where this occurs, or reason from the group axioms to explain why it never could.